ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Jeremiah O'Connell, aged sixty-five, a resident of Castleton for over half a century, dropped dead Monday while returning from the bedside of sick friends. He leaves a widow and four sons.

Reports from Poultney indicate that in some parts of that section the apple crop will be almost an entire failure. Potatoes in many instances are of very poor quality and rotting badly. Grapes are good and there will be a heavy yield.

Col. Stephen P. Jocelyn, general staff, U. S. A., arrived at his home in Burlington Saturday evening from San Francisco, Cal. Colonel Jocelyn will remain for about two weeks. Mrs. Jocelyn, Miss Louisa Jocelyn, and Stephen K. Jocelyn will sail next month for a trip to Europe.

The speakers at the thirty-third annual meeting of the Vermont Branch of the Woman's Board of Missions at Bennington, September 27, will be Mrs. Sara B. Howland of Guadalajara, Mexico, Mrs. Charles L. Carhart of Dorset, Vt., and Miss E. Harriet Stanwood, secretary of the Woman's Board of Missions at Boston.

Middlebury college will open the fall term tomorrow after a three months' vacation. Chapel exercises will be held the first morning at 8:45 and the morning following at 8:15 o'clock. An unusually large class is expected and already there are a large number of the old students back for the opening of the term.

Several Montpelier persons are interested in the fact that Frederick H. Perry, inventor, of Beverly, Mass., has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $17,968, none of which is secured. There are about 50 unsecured creditors, the principal of whom are Montpelier National Bank, $3,796; Montpelier Savings Bank, $2,635; Mrs. Annette C. Kemp, $1,172; Phineas A. Kemp, $1,380, and George W. Scott, $1,696, all of Montpelier.

A bitter rate war is now on among the Rutland coal dealers and the consumers are availing themselves of the opportunity to lay in their winter supply of fuel at a low cost. The campaign has now developed into one of intimidation and recrimination. A few months ago the Combination Cash Store company began selling coal and the regular dealers accordingly felt the effects of the competition. The price of coal began to decrease from time to time until last week, when one dealer again reduced the price and is now offering coal at $3.50 a ton.

The Bennington machine works, of which Col. Olin Scott is proprietor, is busy turning out heavy machinery for several wood pulp mills in different parts of the country. The new wood pulp mill at Niagara Falls will be equipped with heavy grinders made by Colonel Scott, and the establishment at High Falls, N. Y., will be supplied with heavier machinery than that now in use. It is reported that Colonel Scott has practically closed the contract for furnishing the machinery for the rebuilding of the big powder mill that was blown up in Pennsylvania not long ago.

Jack the Peepers has again made his appearance in Burlington. He was first noticed by residents who saw him peering through windows and doorways. He has been seen lurking on street corners and has also chased many young girls and women. On Sunday evening he pursued two young ladies to their home and then tried to force his way into the house. He has frightened many small children and the night watchmen, who patrol the mills in that section, are constantly on the lookout for him. He is described as a tall man with black clothes and a straw hat. The old marble mill seems to be his headquarters, for he has been seen in that vicinity many times.

There was another tremendous rain storm about Middlebury between eleven o'clock Sunday night and six o'clock Monday morning and the rain fell over two inches. Brooks and small rivers in the outlying towns were full to the limit of their banks and there was knee-deep mud in many places. The farmers in this section are greatly discouraged. Potatoes are rotting badly on all lands and many farmers who have usually marketed from 500 to 1,000 bushels every fall will be satisfied or at least thankful if they succeed in getting potatoes enough for their own family needs. Acres upon acres of grain are down and submerged and it is rotting so badly that much of it is ruined beyond all possibility of redemption.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

the conductor came along she turned to me and said, in the sweetest tones:

"Would you mind opening my purse and paying my fare? My right hand is injured."

"I'm always willing to oblige a lady, and so I opened her purse and handed the conductor a five-cent piece. It was all the money the pocketbook contained. Well, we rode along a few blocks, and I had almost forgotten the woman's presence when she suddenly exclaimed: "What did you do with that ten-cent piece in my pocketbook when you paid my fare?"

"It was a hot morning, but I felt the cold chills run up and down my spine. The woman spoke loud enough to attract the attention of several passengers near me. 'Madam,' I said, as dignified as possible, 'there was no ten-cent piece in your purse when I opened it to pay your fare.'"

"Yes there was," she replied. "I want to know how you think I am going to get back home without that car fare?"

"Say, I could have choked her. She kept talking louder and louder, while my face grew redder and redder. I knew I was in for it and that the easiest way was the quickest way. So I pulled a dime out of my pocket and handed it to her. 'Here is ten cents,' I said, as coldly as possible. 'I did not take your money, but I would sooner be worked than have you shouting like a Comanche Indian that you lost your money.' I think that's what I said. I was so blamed mad I could have wrung her neck. I didn't care for the dime, but I didn't relish being under suspicion as a thief."

The moral of all this is: Let the woman hand her pocketbook to the conductor to open when one of her hands is in a bandage. Otherwise, leap from the car and run for your life.—Kansas City Journal.
